- 25.1 The Client represents and warrants that each representation and warranty as follows is deemed repeated each time he or she opens or closes a position:

The Client understands and agrees that such circumstances may arise and where they do, the Company will exercise its best endeavours to mitigate them. Situation of Conflicts of interest may be instances where the Client's interest conflict with our interest, or with another client's interest. For example:

- a. the Company may execute hedging transactions before or after entering into a Transaction with the Client to manage its risk in relation to the Transaction, for example, by entering into an equal and opposite trade with a market counterparty including a member of the same Group, which may impact the price the Client will pay or receive for such Transactions, and the Company will retain any profits generated by such hedging. 4. Prices, commissions, overnight fees

- 4.1. The Trading Company Online Trading System will provide a Buy quote and a Sell quote for each Underlying Asset traded on the Trading Company Online Trading System. A quote is not an offer to buy or sell, but rather an indicative price. You acknowledge that upon opening a Buy or closing a Sell, you may only do so at the prices available by the Trading Company Online Trading System. You further acknowledge that upon opening a Sell or closing a Buy, you may only do so at the price available by the Trading Company Online Trading System.
- 4.2. All Financial Instruments available with the Company have Spreads which appear on the Company Online Trading System. The Company has the right to amend its Spreads in its discretion from time to time. Such changes shall be affected on the Company Online Trading System and the Client is responsible to check for updates regularly.
- 4.3. Spreads may increase during major announcements, due to volatile and illiquid market conditions, and/or late-night hours.
- 4.4. For maintaining an opened position in some types of Financial Instruments the Client may be required to pay Overnight Fees, the amount of which shall be disclosed on the Company's Website. In the case of Overnight Fees, the value of Opened Positions in some types of Financial Instruments is increased or reduced by a daily Overnight Fee throughout the life of the contract.
- 4.5. Derivatives are subject to overnight fees.
- 4.6. The Company offers 'Swap Free' accounts (no charge of overnight fees) but only upon request.

5. Lots and units

- 5.1. The 1 (one) standard lot size is the default measurement unit specified for each Financial Instrument available for trade on the MetaTrader trading platform MT4 and MT5. The Company may offer standard lots, micro-lots, and mini-lots, in its discretion, as defined from time to time in the Product Specifications or the Company's website Trading Products amana.

- 5.2. For clients trading in the MobApp or WebApp trading platforms the notion of lot size is not used. For the convenience of the Client, we allow order entry in USD amount. All USD amount positions are converted in 'units' and this becoming the official record of the trade size. Clients are nevertheless given the functionality on the platform to convert Units to lots.

6. Trailing stop, expert advisor and stop loss orders

- 6.1. The Client agrees that trading operations using additional functions of the Client Trading Terminal such as Trailing Stop and/or Expert Advisor are executed completely under the Client's responsibility, as they depend directly on his trading terminal and the Company bears no responsibility whatsoever.
- 6.2. The Client agrees that placing a Stop Loss Order will not necessarily limit losses to the intended amounts, because market conditions may make it impossible to execute such an Order at the stipulated price and the Company bears no responsibility whatsoever.

7. Margin requirements

- 7.1. To be able to place Orders in Derivatives, the Client needs to have and maintain the required Margin, which appears in the Product Specifications on the Website, according to Applicable Regulations.
- 7.2. Unless a Force Majeure Event has occurred, the Company has the right to change the Margin requirements, by sending notice email and/or notification on the Company's trading platforms and the Company has the right to apply new Margin requirements to the new but also the existing open positions.
- 7.3. The Company has the right to change Margin requirements without prior notice to the Client in the case of Force Majeure Event and especially when there are Abnormal Market Conditions. In this situation the Company has the right to apply new Margin requirements to the new positions and to the positions which are already open.
- 7.4. Without prejudice to the Company's rights under this Agreement, the Company has the right to close at market prices and or limit the size of Client Open Positions and to refuse new Client Orders in any of the following cases:
- a. The Company considers that there are Abnormal Trading Conditions.
 - b. The value of Client collateral falls below the minimum margin requirement.
 - c. At any time, Equity (current balance including open positions) is equal to or less than a specified percentage of the margin (collateral) needed to keep the open position.
 - d. The Company makes a Margin Call (including the situation where the Company Online Trading System automatically notifies the Client) and the Client fails to meet it.
 - e. The system of the Company rejects the Order due to trading limits imposed on the Client Account.

- f. When the Margin Level (also referred as Health Level) reaches 100% (one hundred percent) (ratio of equity to Margin in the Client Account), the Company has the discretion to begin closing Client positions from the most unprofitable one. In addition, at margin level of 20% (twenty percent) the Company's system will start closing automatically at market prices, starting from the most unprofitable one. Unleveraged positions will be closed out automatically by the Company's system when Margin Level/Health Level reaches 0.1% with the Client's consent or any prior written notice. In order to determine if the Client has breached this clause, any sums referred to therein which are not denominated in the Currency of the Client Account shall be treated as if they were denominated in the Currency of the Client Account by converting them into the Currency of the Client Account at the relevant exchange rate for spot dealings in the foreign exchange market.
- 7.5. The Company does not have an obligation to make Margin Calls to the Client (indulging the situation when the Company Online Trading System automatically warns the Client that it reached a specific percentage of the Margin in the Client Account). However, if the Company does make a Margin Call, then the Client should take any or all of the two options to deal with the situation:
- a. limit his exposure (close trades); or
 - b. deposit more money in his Client Account.
- 7.6. Margin must be paid in monetary funds in the Currency of the Client Account.
- 7.7. The Client undertakes neither to create nor to have outstanding any security interest whatsoever over, nor to agree to assign or transfer, any of the Margin transferred to the Company.
- 7.8. It is understood that once an Order is executed, the Margin shall appear in and form part of the Balance, but because it is used as collateral for keeping the position open, it shall be unavailable for withdrawal.
- 7.9. It is the responsibility of the Client to ensure he/she has sufficient margin on his/her Client Account(s), at all times, in order to maintain an open position and it is the responsibility of the Client to notify the Company as soon as he/she believes that he/she will be unable to meet a margin payment.

8. Settlement of transactions

- 8.1. Upon completing a Transaction one of the following shall apply:
- a. The Client shall be liable for the Difference if the Transaction is:
 - i. sell, and the closing price of the Transaction is higher than the opening price of the Transaction;
or
 - ii. buy, and the closing price of the Transaction is lower than the opening price of the Transaction.
 - b. The Client shall receive the Difference if the Transaction is:
 - i. sell, and the closing price of the Transaction is lower than the opening price of the Transaction;
or

ii. buy, and the closing price of the Transaction is higher than the opening price of the Transaction.

8.2. Unless the Parties agree otherwise, all sums for which either Party is liable under paragraph 8.1 of this Appendix 1 are immediately payable upon closing or expiration of the Transaction. The Client hereby authorizes the Company to debit or credit the relevant Client Account with the relevant sums at the closing of each Transaction.

8.3. It is understood that when trading in Derivatives, there is no delivery or safekeeping of the Underlying Asset to which the Derivatives is referring to.

9. Execution Venue

9.1 It is understood that once you place an Order in a derivative on the Trading Company Online Trading System, the Company will execute your Order as a counterparty, in which case the Company will be the execution venue. It may also hedge your Orders.

10. Quotes

10.1. The Company Online Trading System will display the indicative price to buy, and the price to sell for each Derivative. This is called a "Quote". A Quote is not an offer by the Company to buy or sell. The Company does not generally provide Quotes over the phone, but it may do so at its discretion.

10.2. The Company is setting its own price of Derivatives which can be traded on the Company Online Trading System. This means that the Company's Quotes will be different from the prices provided by other brokers, the market price, as well as the current prices on any exchanges or trading platforms.

10.3. Although, when the Company provides a Quote, it may take into account the price that it receives from a broker, the market, or any exchanges or trading platforms, it is under no obligation to do this, and it is under no obligation to ensure that the Quotes which it provide are within any specific percentage of such price.

10.4. If the prices on a market, exchange or trading platform are distorted, for example during a Spike, or during pre-market, post-market, or intra-day auction periods, the Company reflect similar prices in its Quotes Flow, but it is under no obligation to do this.

10.5. The Quotes appearing on the Client's terminal are based on the relevant Underlying Markets. However, if there is a high volatility in the Underlying Market the execution of the Order may change, and the Client may obtain the first price that will be available in the Markets and not the price requested, and this may result in positive or negative Slippage for the Client.

10.6. In the event that the Company is unable to proceed with an Order, with regard to price or size or other reason, depending on the type of the Client Account, the Company will send a re-quote to the Client with the price it is willing to deal until the price the Client asks is available. The re-quote provided to the Client is the next available price received by the Company from its price feeders. It is understood that the Company does not re-quote Pending Orders

10.7. When the Underlying Market or exchange is closed, the Company's Quotes may reflect what the Company believes to be the current Bid and Ask price of the relevant Underlying Asset, at that time, but we are under no obligation to do this.

- 10.8. The Quote Flow of the Company is updated constantly which means that the price to buy or sell may change between the time that the Client places an Order, and the time that the Company executes that Order.

11. Corporate actions in relation to the financial instruments of NDFs

The provisions of this paragraph 11 apply only to NDFs.

- 11.1. If a Corporate Event takes place in the Underlying Asset, the Company will use reasonable endeavours to adjust the Underlying Asset of the Client's NDF in a way that is fair and which aligns with market practice, however the Company does not reserve the right to close out any open positions impacted by a Corporate Event.
- 11.2. When Corporate Events (such as partial redemptions) affect some but not all of the Underlying Asset of the Client's NDF, the Company will allocate the Underlying Asset so affected to particular Clients in such fair and equitable manner as it considers appropriate (which may without limitation involve pro rata allocation).

- 4.1. The provisions of this paragraph 4 apply only to Securities classified by the Company as Regional Shares.
- 4.2. The Company shall arrange for custody services for Securities classified as Regional Shares to be offered by a duly licensed custodian, acting on behalf of the Company and on the Company's instructions (such third party called a "sub-custodian"). There is a risk that this could happen for a Transaction that is unrelated to the Client, but the Company has no controls in place to mitigate this.

4.7. In the event of the insolvency or any other analogous proceedings in relation to the sub-custodian, the Company may only have an unsecured claim against the sub-custodian on behalf of the Client, and the Client will be exposed to the risk that the money received by the Company from the sub-custodian is insufficient to satisfy the claims of the Client with claims in respect of the relevant Client Account.
